SEABOARD SITUATION

Hambleton & Co. Make Statement in Weekly Circular.

NEED FOR MORE CAPITAL

Firm Declare That Only Question Is One of Financing the Property.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BALTINURE, MD., July 4.—Regarding the Seaboard situation, Hambieton and Company, in their weekly circular, say:

"Recent reports have had it that three wars to be an early announcement of some very decided change in the linancial policy of the Seaboard Railway system, but a holding company, together with the or a holding company, together with the or a certain amount of stock by the present holders, but if such a plan way seriously considered it appears to have been abandoned.

The Situation

The Situation

"The Scaboard situation seems to us to be as follows: The Blair-Ryan party at present dominates the polloy of the company and controls the minagement through a voting trust, which against a control of the company and controls the minagement through a voting trust, which assistance of the company with the first loan of $2,500,000. We company with the first loan of $2,500,000 was created and what is known as the a stock bonus of nine shares of preferred stock and sixteen shares of common stock.

"The raising of this $5,000,000 was considered authorient at that time to pay off the loan made by Messrs. Blair and Company and to furnish what was believed to be a sufficient amount of money to complete the Birmingham division and for the other necessities of the property.

"Latter developments, however, would seem to indicate that the company will require additional capital to perfect its undertakings and plans and to complete the Birmingham division.

Further Financiering.

"It would appear—for the present at least—that the company is not in need of funds and that it can get along with the capital already supplied, together with its income over and above fixed charges. We take it, however, that this is only a temporary condition, and that sooner or later some further financiering will be necessary.

lemporary continuous, and that the more sessary.

"As stated above, the Ryan-Blair party has the controlling hand so far as the present management and policy of the company are concerned.

"There is, however, another side to this question, and that is that the Seaboard stocks are held by the creditors of Messre. John L. Williams and Sons. of Riemmond, and Messrs. J. William Mideendorf and Company, of Baltimore—constituting, it is supposed, an amount large enough to command a majority vote, and, therefore, to control the property should any one obtain possession of this block of stock.

"This suggests the possibility of some parties—other than the Ryan-Blair syndicate—obtaining control of the road.

"The Seaboard Air Line Railway occupies a position in the South which makes it quite attractive to other lines, especially those lines connecting or seeking connections with the South and the seaboard." Messrs. Williams and Middemoorfield.

connections with the South and the seaboard.

"If Messrs, Williams and Middendorf could secure the assistance and support of the Wabash or the Illinois Central people-or some other interest with powerful backing and an ambition for extensions-it might be possible that a contexfor the property should ensue.

"This, however, is only a surmise, and we do not know that there is any movement on foot to oppose the present management—only considering it a possibility, and one which would be effective in relieving Messrs. Williams and Middendorf from their present embarrassment.

Have Been Firmer.

Have Been Firmer.

Have Been Firmer.

"The Seaboard issues this week have been firmer, with an improvement in values. It would seem that so far as the bonds of the company are concerned the condition of the property would indicate that they would not be disturbed in future. The ten-year fives are secured by double the amount of Seaboard fours, and the three-year fives are secured by a miscellaneous lot of securities, which are probably sufficient for their protection. The four per cent, bonds are selling around sixty-eight, and at these figures they would seem to us to be an attractive purchase. The three-year fives also, at about eighty-six, should do to buy. As for the preferred and common stocks, it is useless to make any predictions regarding their future. There are so many things that might happen either to the advantage or the disadvantage of the holders of these stocks, and the future is so uncertain that we can only await developments, always, of course, remembering that the prices for both preferred and common are merely nominal and that the future prospects of the property would seem to indicate that they are selling below their intrinsic value.

"The only question is one of financias the property, and that, we doubt not, will be successfully accomplished, as the earnings of the road are very satisfactory, and the property itself is daily improving, and when the Birmingham division is completed it should be in a commanding position."

Bethany Home. Bethany Home,

(For The Times-Dispatch.)

It was the privilege of the writer to visit this home, which beers the name of that honored home. When the the lessed Saviour so often visited. One can but feel that at this home, Jesus a never present guest. The tragement of His presence exhales itself health, and instructing the little ones in health, and instructing them in ways has deep for a future life of usefulness. Toy and peace, Mrs. Burrough, whom God has placed over these rough, whom God has placed over these rough, whom God has placed over these dear children, like the case of the lamented Spurgeon and Michler, signalizes God's unerring judgment in the selection of those who are to look after the dear ones of whom he has declared "of such is the kingdom of heaven." I write this that many of God's people may visit this home and get the hallowed experience that contact with such surroundings produces. This home, without the financial tacking of any sect, corporation or individual, relying only on the promises of God to honor those who trust Him, has never wanted any needful thing, God using the merofitul to provide for helpless ones, and stores have come in. Oh, that the frequency is the first of the section of the section

YOUNG MAN'S SAD DEATH

Mr. Arthur Nunnally, of Manchester, Dies After Years of Ill Health.

BUT RECENTLY CAME HOME

Had Traveled Extensively in Pursuit of Health-Second Death in Mr. Gill's Family.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispater No. 1102 Hull Street. Mr. Arthur V. Nunnally, a popula oung man of Manchester, son of the late Harvey J. Nunnally and grandson of the late H. J. Nunnally, died yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the residence of his aunt, Mrs. Charles H. Sharp, Tenth and Decatur Streets.

Mr. Nunnally had been in ill health for several years and had sought relies in California, Arizona and Mexico. Pre-vious to last winter, when he began travling in search of better climatic conditions, Mr. Nunnally gave up a responsible position with the American Tobacco Coof New York, on account of his health. He had filled this position of trust with the utmost worthiness and honor, but his continued fill health forced him to resign continued ill health forced him to resign and to give up active employment. Mr. Nunmally, who was in his twenty-eighth year, was a graduate of Randolph Macon College in the class of '99. Later he attended and graduated from Eastman Business College, Poughkeopsie, N. Y. At both institutions he acquitted himself in the highest manner, both in athleties and in the regular departments of learning. At Eastman Business College, he was appointed first assistant to Mr. Gaines, the president of that institution and also further distinguished himself by writing and publishing several text books, which are now in use at Eastman.

books, which are now in use at Eastman.

Two of the closest personal friends of the deceased, Mr. John H. Guess, general purchasing agent of the international Rallway of Mexico, and Dr. H. B. Grace, of New York city, came to visit him before his death. Dr. Grace arrived in time to see Mr. Nunnally before his death, but Mr. Guess arrived too late. Their friendship for the deceased testifies to the general high esteem in which Mr. Nunnally was held.

The funeral will take place from the residence Wednesday morning at, 11 o'clock.

Negroes Fight.

John Spencer, dissatisfied with his boarding mistress, Lucy Hotmes, mode, of cooking his breakfast, made some remark to that effect yesterday. Lucy, being not in a particularly good humor, replied that he needed as much attention as an alderman, whereupon John became enraged and made answer with a blow of his fist. This by no means pacified Lucy's righteous indignation, and she nursed her wrath until opportunity came for presenting the matter to her son-in-inw, Charles Perry. The latter, a man of honor and chivairy, always ready to defend a woman, even though she be his mother-in-law, immediately became fired with a manly ardor, and undertook to thrash the assaulter of his near relative. Negroes Fight.

The results of the conflict were all three were brought before Mayor Maurice, who fined John Spencer for striking a woman and discharged Perry for defending the woman's honor.

Coaching Party Quarrel.

A coaching party of five or six, all colored, came yesterday to a disagree-ment with their driver on Tenth and Hull ment with their driver on Tenth and Hull Etreets. The party contended that they had paid sufficient fare for their Fourth of July excursion, but the driver begged to differ with them. There was a spirituous effect working somewhere, be-tokened by the eyes and wild gestures of the driver, and there was danger of something more serious than foul and busive language, when Officer Wright ordered the coachman to take the party back to Richmond, whence they had railed. The request was promptly com-plied with, and all went off rejoicing.

Attack on Conductor. Attack on Conductor.

A street car conductor experienced a little trouble last night with a refractory man, who refused to pay his lawful iare. The conductor put him off, and the man turned and hurled the most abusive language at the conductor. The latter, who was standing close by on the car step, replied with a vigorous kick, which sent the offender sprawling. Picking up a rock, he attempted to throw it at the car. Falling to wield the heavy mass successfully, he found a smaller stone, with which he struck the car, infacting, however, no damage.
